

The Teaching Provider

For preceptors of medical, pharmacy, allied health, and nursing students in the Greensboro area

Greensboro AHEC and Cone Health Advanced Practice Provider Fellowship Program

We are happy to announce that the Advanced Practice Provider (APP) Fellowship Program graduated its first cohort of residents in December 2021. The second cohort started its yearlong training in January 2022.

“APP fellowships are quickly growing as a means to train and retain nurse practitioners and physician assistants,” says Hugh H. Tilson, Jr., JD, MPH, director of the statewide NC AHEC Program. “NC AHEC is pleased to support this fellowship because of its benefits to our healthcare workforce in North Carolina, particularly in rural and underserved areas.”

The 12-month immersive educational experience includes direct care in the clinic setting, select specialty rotations to enhance primary-care knowledge, continuing education through didactics and other methods, peer support, and mentoring.

“It is our privilege and honor to foster the ongoing growth and development of the next generation of advanced practice providers with the launch of our Advanced Practice Provider Fellowship in Primary Care program,” says Dereck DeLeon, MD, chief academic officer of Cone Health.

For more information about the APP Fellowship Program, please contact Greensboro AHEC Graduate Medical Education Administrator Katina Blackwell at katina.blackwell@conehealth.com.

Preceptor and Student Opportunities

- FREE Clinical Precepting Online Series: 101-104
Online Self-Paced Learning
- Health Careers & Workforce Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at Greensboro AHEC is currently recruiting students who are interested in Health Careers programs in our region. Our AHEC Scholars Program is now accepting students for Cohort 5. Additionally, we are registering college students for our Pre-Professional Scholars Summer Experience \(PPSSE\). This program is designed for rising college freshmen and sophomores, no matter what school they choose to attend.

These programs educate students about health careers, college classes, advising, professionalism, networking, and much more. Please visit Greensboro AHEC's Health Careers page to find out more about our programs and to register.

We also need your help in providing meaningful clinical experiences for our Scholars.

If you are interested in being a preceptor for these programs, please contact Patricia Parrish at patricia.parrish@conehealth.com.

The NC AHEC Digital Library Now Offers New Curated eBook Collections

Thanks to funding from the SECU Foundation, a new collection of 200 curated eBooks has been added to the North Carolina AHEC Digital Library. These eBooks, accessible by all AHEC Digital Library (ADL) members, provide clinical and research support along with evidence-based recommendations to equip providers with what they need to deliver care and successfully navigate changes in healthcare environments. The new eBooks include the following resources:

- COVID Collection: titles related to infection control, epidemiology, public health preparedness, and pandemics
- Health Equity Collection: 43 titles on topics such as cultural responsiveness, research equity, health justice, and community engagement
- Clinical Nursing Collection: 134 titles covering a variety of clinical specialties, including nursing, healthcare management, trauma, and vaccine safety

To access these resources, log in to the North Carolina AHEC Digital Library and click on the “New Books” link.

For questions or for access to the North Carolina AHEC Digital Library, please email medical.library@conehealth.com.

Interested in Precepting?

Teaching students is an enjoyable way to give back to the community and ensure that future health providers have the best training possible.
