

Pre-Professional Scholars Summer Experience (PPSSE)

July 26, 2021 – July 30th
Coming to you virtually.

Will you be an incoming freshman or rising sophomore in college who is interested in a Health and Science major or a career in healthcare? If your answer is yes, this program is designed just for you.

The Greensboro Area Health Education Center (Greensboro AHEC) and North Carolina A&T State University (N.C. A&T) have partnered to host the 2021 Greensboro AHEC – NC A&T Pre-Professional Scholars Summer Experience (PPSSE). The PPSSE is designed to prepare incoming freshmen, rising sophomores, and transfer students for the challenge of navigating the path to professional and graduate school. This week-long virtual program will provide a solid foundation by exposing students to local health care providers, intentional interactions with key faculty members and other university stakeholders, provide professionalism training, and inform students of the multiple factors involved in becoming a competitive candidate for the NC AHEC Scholars program, advanced health professions and graduate education.

Eligibility Requirements:

1. Target Group: Incoming freshmen and rising sophomores. Students may participate from all community college and universities.
2. No GPA requirement.
3. Males interested in healthcare are 'strongly' encouraged to participate.
